Foreword

To keep alive in the minds of Mississippi College men through the ensuing years the high ideals, the lofty purposes, the worthy accomplishments, and the familiar faces of the college year 1921-'22, this, the sixteenth volume of L'Allegro, has been compiled. We sought your support, we got it. We do not ask for sympathy, but fair judgment. May the pages of this volume be a true epitome of your reaction to the varying stimuli of the college year.

Listen to the words of wisdom,
Listen to the words of warning,
All our strength is in our union,
All our danger in discord.

The cone of life, with apex in the skies,
Is habitat of men of all degrees,
Like forest filled with every kind of trees,
Whence song of bird and growl of beast arise.
At base the choicest with the vulgar sighs,
And crowding throngs preclude refreshing breeze,
And eyes tear-filled behold what most displease,
While harmony in raucous discord dies.
Though living tomb at base, the top is joy,
Which is from crime and squalor far removed,
And urged by smiling day-star to employ
Its heavenly gifts in ways of God approved.
And you, with call divine, on apex high,
Shall comfort bring to hush repentant's cry.

The Classes

And the smoke rose slowly, slowly
Through the tranquil air of morning,
First a single line of darkness,
Then a denser bluer vapor,
Then a snow-white cloud unfolding,
Like the tree-tops of the forest,
Ever rising, rising, rising,
Till it touched the top of heaven.

LONGFELLOW: HIAWATHA.

FRESHMEN

Then the wrinkled old Nokomis
Nursed the little Hiawatha,
Rocked him in his linden cradle,
Bedded soft in moss and rushes.

Freshman Class Poem

We, the Class of Twenty-five,
Are started on our way
To make our lives on earth worth while,
To do the tasks assigned each day.

Many trials will come to halt us,
And obstacles in our path
Will do their best to stop us;
But we'll fight on to the last.

Our course seems very long,
Yet so short is the way—
Opportunity will soon be gone;
Let us grasp it while we may.

We are doing well now, classmates!
Don't slacken in the pace;
We are bound to stick together
If we hope to win the race.

Now with the help of God
In the race that we must run,
May we in the end proclaim:
"We've fought, we've labored, we've won."

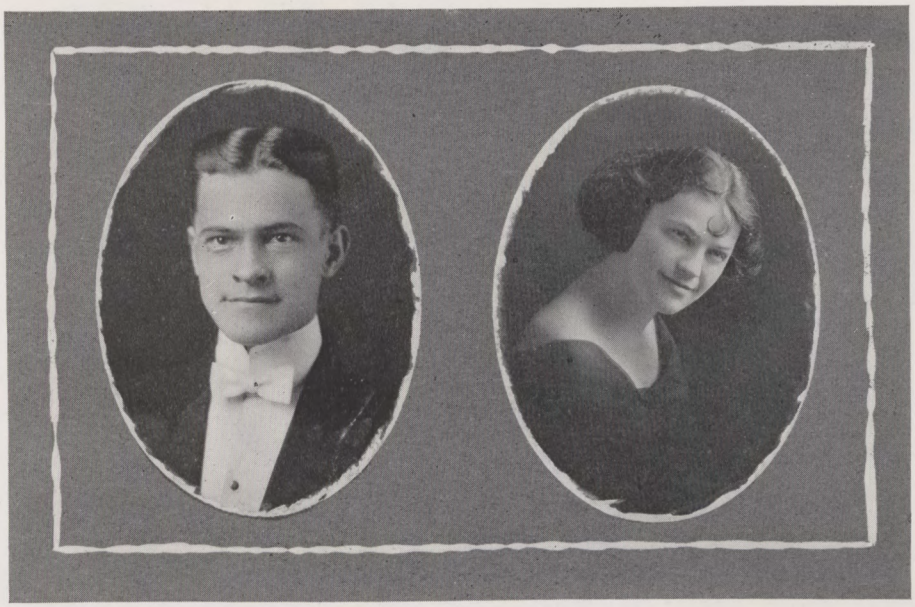

CLASS POET.

At the door on summer evenings
Sat the little Hiawatha;
Heard the whispering of the pine trees,
Heard the lapping of the water.

Sophomore Class History

THE Class of '24 has been in the making for the last three years. In its membership three states are represented—Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee. Many vocations will feel the influence of their preparation and energy. The ministry, teaching, law. Medicine, and farming will each be ably represented.

No unit with greater energy, higher ideals, and nobler purposes ever cast its shadow upon the Mississippi College campus. It took the entire faculty force with their intellectual "baseball bats" at their immediate command to keep many of its members out of the Junior and Senior classes at the beginning of the second semester.

In class organization it is unsurpassed even by the senior in harmony and unity, business and integrity. Every official discharged his duties with a seriousness fitting to the office which he has assumed. This, coupled with the sympathetic support of every member, makes an enviable working organization.

Its achievements in athletics are by no means to be despised. In class contests it came out a close second in '21, making a final percentage of .750. It was also ably represented on the varsity football team which made such an enviable record last season.

In class room work no class within the last ten years has tallied the high standard reached by the Class of '24.

With loyalty to the faculty and to those high ideals for which Mississippi stands, augmented by the splendid record in every phase of college work, the Class of '24 turns to the inviting future with ambition unselfish, with purposes noble, with desire pure, with hope supreme.

CLASS HISTORIAN.

Sophomore Class Poem

Onward, valiant comrades, pride of Twenty-four,
Take the chance the blessed Savior doth bestow.
Though the course is rough and rugged—ah! more,
Down there lies a half the rocky path below.

Heralded victors, hold fast a good foothold firm—
Disdain stumbling, work and fight your very best.
Courageous fellows, climb up the path, term by term;
Scale the utmost heights of famous hill success.

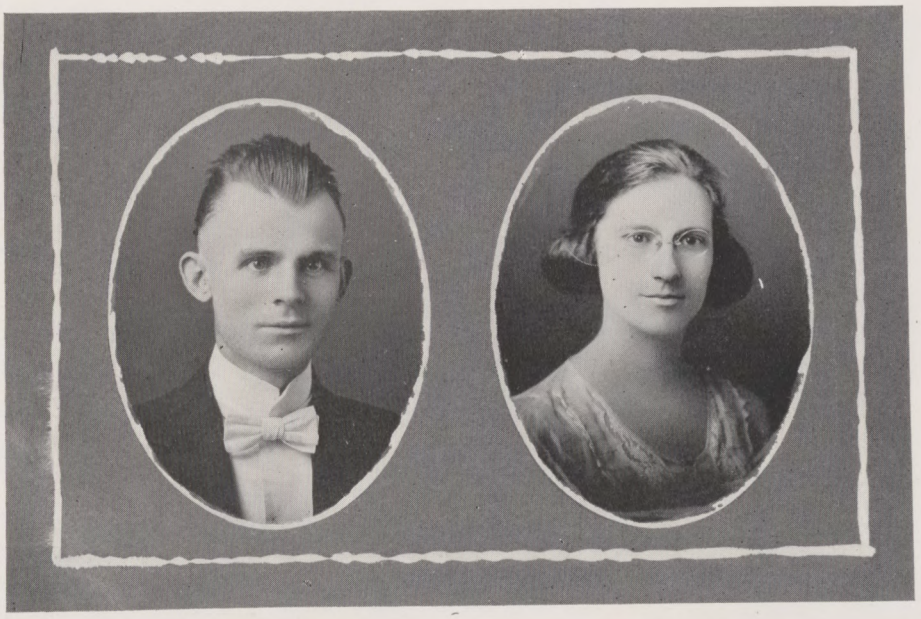

The road ever upward, winding steps and dreary,
But at the top, when God His blessing showers,
O classmates of Twenty-four, may we not grow weary,
But may we heroes be from this Alma Mater ours.

Junior Class History

THE opening of the '19-'20 session saw a class of about one hundred and fifty freshmen gathered from the four corners of the earth and assembled in the old Chapel Hall. These green but promising freshmen had decided to leave home, pleasure, and "Sue," and engage for four brief years in the building of character and in equipping themselves for more efficient work in life.

Of the one hundred and fifty freshmen who entered in '19, some have stepped on the accelerator and will finish with the Class of '22; others have fallen out to finish at a later time, and a few have fallen victims to the crossfire of Time, "Tite," "Bear-Cat," "Frenchie," "Zeus," and others.

Notwithstanding these difficulties, we still boast of a class of sixty men, who have the "Old Junior" spirit and are bubbling over with "pep."

We boast of our athletic record, and justly so. When the freshie of '19 entered the interclass meets the upperclassmen realized that a new force was to be reckoned with. But it was in our sophomore year that we reached our pace and crushed all opposition, thus obtaining "all-class" honors.

We are glad to furnish more than our proportion of "letter" men in the major sports. We would mention John Dickens, Joe Keith, J. Herbert Fortenberry, Salty Everett, and Edwin Hale as representative juniors in football; W. M. Meeks and Ellis Britt as representatives in basketball; and we also expect to furnish an able group of men for baseball and track.

The flowery paths of oratory are familiar to many of cur class. We have representatives here: M. A. Davis, L. C. Hodges, Ray Owen, W. D. Wilson, most of whom have made varsity debating team, besides capturing various medals as they have come along.

Neither is the class lacking in other college activities. Especially when it comes to "gray matter" affairs do we suggest to you "profs." to hold fast to your chairs, or some juniors will shake you off.

Seeing the past history and knowing the morale of the Junior Class, the writer volunteers an assertion that the incoming Senior Class shall measure to the full standard of a Senior Mississippi College Class.

CLASS HISTORIAN.

Class Poem

Each morn anew the rosy-tinted East is ours,
The earth is born again each day—
When first we face the West, to some
There comes a fear we can not stay.
Time does not wait for him who turns
To finish up the tasks of Yesterday;
But to him who closes up his books each night
With generous gain for golden hours lent
There is no fear! There is but light
To guide his steps across the rugged way
To realms where winged fortune plights
A troth with all who dare assay.

Class History

THE history of the Class of '22 shall be only a summary of the most important events. When we entered college in 1918 we found guards stationed on the campus. Instead of the old chapel bell, we heard, at regular intervals, the reveille, mess calls, school calls, retreat, and taps. We were in the throes of the Student Army Training Corps. What novel doings did our poor freshmen eyes behold! Our dignified professors were halted at the campus entrance and commanded to produce a pass.

Members of the class were enrolled in the S. A. T. C. No class organization was effected until in January, 1919, just after the disbanding of the student army. John Latimer was elected president. There were no class football games, but in basketball we easily won over all the other classes. During our freshman year we took part in all athletic, religious and literary work. In the freshman oratorical contest at the close of the session Cecil Johnson was the victor.

Edwin Landrum was elected to direct our sophomore activities. This year the college, as was everything else, was more or less demoralized, but by the middle of the year things were going as of old. John Latimer won the Lackey medal.

The Junior Class elected Cecil Travis as president. Quite a few honors may be ascribed to the juniors. We maintained a high standard of scholarship, taking an active part in college activities. R. L. Caylor won the Quisinberry medal for the best essay on Bible missions. Cecil Travis won one of the Lee-Haywood medals for best extemporaneous debate. John Latimer won the Trotter medal. Cecil Travis was elected president of the Student Body Association for the session of 1922.

J. C. Edwards was chosen president for the present year. Our class numbers about forty-four; we have six Student Volunteers, a good number of ministerial students, and quite a few "special distinction" men. We have in our class president, "Little Joe," one of the best pitchers that ever twirled a ball over a plate in the Southland. We have Cecil Johnson, the best football manager south of the Mason-Dixon Line. We have the Cooper and the Latimer twins. We have Roy Windsor, the best cheer leader in the United States; football, baseball, and basketball letter men galore.

We have passed through many storms and battles in the class rooms, in the society halls, and on the athletic fields; but we have conquered and won all, in that we have reached the goal of our past ambitions. We count ourselves "finishing but to begin." Some of us will succeed, others fail; some of us will conquer, others be conquered; but the ideals which have been implanted in our lives during these four years of struggle for knowledge will always be as a guiding star to hold us in our hours of victory and to lift us up in our hours of defeat.

SENIOR SNAPSHOTS

Class Prophecy

THE minds of men at certain times become fixed on the solving of some great problem, or getting the proper understanding of some mysterious principle. During this state of the mind the imagination sometimes carries one back into the unfolded past, and recalls the way in which certain men have worked their way to fame and fortune because of the application of certain principles in their lives.

When we remember that these principles underlie the secret of great achievements of men, our imagination seems to reverse its course and follow the same path as the imagination of Tennyson did when he said, "For I drift into the future as far as human eye could see, saw the vision of the world and all the wonders that would be." With my imagination running in this channel, I thought of the wonderful future in store for those who have worked together here in Mississippi College in preparation for their voyage on the sea of life; and in seeking to arrive with each at the cherished part of his destination, my only criterion of prophecy is a knowledge of each personality gained through the pleasant associations of these college days.

These fighting heroes of the Class of '22 will soon be scattered over the various parts of this earth, performing their duties in their various occupations, all advancing together, as if in a line of battle, carrying the banner of a higher and nobler civilization.

As I gaze into the future I can see the gloom and mist of this turbulent world pass away and give place to the penetrating rays of the morning sun.

The "ideal democracy" that Lincoln spoke of on the battlefield of Gettysburg will come to be realized when the members of the Class of '22, who will go forth to place education in its proper sphere, shall have taught the citizens of this republic their duties as American citizens. One will be president of a great university, and another, sacrificing his ambitions to become wealthy and honored, will spend his life in the rural districts of his own native state to produce a more enlightened citizenship.

Not only in the preparation of citizens are these men to advance civilization, but they will be found in the halls of our United States Senate as leading statesmen of this commonwealth.

The scope of this band of men will not end here, but in other fields of activity they will rise as living monuments. Agricultural interests will be revived, and the produce of this nation will be greatly increased with the new methods of farming that the men of '22 will initiate. The living conditions will be better and the common man will prosper when the engineer of the Class of '22 shall construct a dam that will furnish power to run a plant with a million employes and turn its profits into the hands of those who furnished us the means of our sustenance.

Working together with these producers there will be great business men from this noble class to make these industries prosper and increase the wealth and industrial possibilities of our nation. Side by side with these men there will be found a great number of the Class of '22 carrying out the commands of the Lord Jesus Christ and acting as messengers for Him. Great crowds will come together from time to time and from place to place to hear the messages of the men of God who received their inspiration and divine call while members of the Class of '22.

The answer to a great call will be made, as some of our body will go forth in this country to heal the sick and alleviate the sufferings of humanity.

Our interests would not reach beyond our own country if we should stop here, but into foreign fields a few of our number will go to show the heathens the light of the world through the Gospel of Christ, and heal them of their diseases. With men going out into these various walks of life to raise the standards of civilization, we shall some day meet again and relate to one another the glories and honors of our lives.

If we can judge the future by the past, if environment moulds character, then these visions of our fellow laborers will some day be history.

CLASS PROPHET.

Mutations—Class Poem

Life's sweetest hours are those we spend alone;
'Tis then we live the memoried past anew.
Moments, rare bits of yesterdays now gone,
Come back to quench the thirst of love like dew
That fills each drooping petal of the morn.
'Tis then the muted phantoms pass review
Of childhood's dreams of rainbow-tinted hue:
Strong limbs to climb life's rugged hill!
Clean hearts to do the Master's will!
Broad minds at wisdom's shrine to fill!

The passing years have seen each dream come true;
At th' entrance of each year we find
With each success life's dream-vial filled anew.
Maturer years have come and left behind,
Like matin bells resounding night's curfew,
The faint echo of childhood's dreams endued
With evening's amber-tinted hue:
Full hands with gifts before his shrine!
Strong wills to do, and yet resigned!
Enlightened souls to lift mankind!

Our Coaches

This is Coach Gillem's first year with us, but he is no new performer to Dixie fans. He comes to us from Southern Military Academy, where he coached all teams last year, turning out a basketball team that was given only thre defeats during the season.

Prior to this time he was a prominent figure in basketball, having played for five years on the Birmingham Athletic Club, which was one of the fastest quintets in the South.

From his Alma Mater Coach Gillem possesses letters in football, basketball and baseball. Although a good all-round athlete, he is primarily a basketball man, having been selected twice as a forward on the Mythical All-Southern Quintet. He was also mentioned for a berth on the All-Southern Football Eleven.

Coach Gillem is a student of athletics and knows just how to teach a man the things that he has learned. His coaching ability has been proved to everyone this year, both in football and in basketball. In the former he ably assisted Coach Robinson. In the latter he has trained a squad of tossers who in the last six or eight games have easily handed their opponents a sound threshing. It seems that his work has just begun to take hold, for each time the squad plays the team work and fight are superior to that demonstrated in the preceding game. We are certainly fortunate in having him with us.

Coach Gillem had been here only a few months when he journeyed back to old Alabam' and took as his wife one of the finest young ladies of that state. They came back to Clinton to make their home with us, and we hope that for many years they will be content to remain with us.

Too much can not be said regarding the work of Coach Robinson. Everyone connected with Mississippi College has had their eyes on him for the last two years, as he has worked and planned in order that Mississippi College might regain her old place in the athletic world. The alumni see in him the man of the hour for the school and are he'ping him in every way possible. He is the idol of the student body, and in him they place their implicit trust, knowing that he will further the interests of the school to the best possible advantage. So well has he done his work that we today are one of the leading schools of the country in the athletic world.

Coach Robinson has a fine record in scholastic work at his Alma Mater. In athletics he has the distinction of having been chosen for the backfield of the All-American Eleven for two consecutive years. Although primarily a football man, he was a good all-round athlete, being a good track man as well as a good baseball man.

Since his graduation Coach Robinson has been coaching various teams throughout the country. His work at each place stands as a lasting monument to his ability as a coach. He came to us when our athletic teams were weak. He has been here but two years, yet what a change he has brought about in our athletic standing! Although primarily a football coach, he is equally good in all of the major sports. He takes a special interest in each man and makes him see clearly the fundamental points of the game.

In football he is strictly business, giving the squad all that they can do, but knowing just when to stop in order that no man should get too much. He stands for a clean, scrappy fight, and will countenance no other brand of playing. He soon wins the respect and the love of all athletes who come under his supervision.

We hope that he and Mrs. Robinson will be with us many years yet.

THE SQUAD

Review of the Season

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE this year sent out the best aggregation of footballers that ever represented her on a Dixie gridiron. Throughout the season the Choctaw eleven consistently handed their opponents the small end of the score.

Of nine games played on the regular schedule, Mississippi College is credited with one tie, seven decisive victories, and one 14-13 defeat at the hands of A. and M. In the athletic work of today Mississippi College has attained a place alongside the foremost colleges of the South.

When Coach Robinson issued a call for prospective footballers upwards of fifty huskies reported a week before school opened for their initial practice of the season. In this fifty men were stars of last season, scrubs, high school stars, and green material. Coach Robinson at once began to test his material, and by the first of October, when the tribe journeyed to New Orleans to battle the Greenies in their own backyard, had selected a group that could render a good account of themselves against the very best.

Our first game was with Tulane, but it is needless to recount the story of that fierce battle—of how the Choctaws completely outmanœuvered and outplayed the Tulane boys —of how Goat Hale ripped off 25 and 80-yard runs at ease. Suffice it to say that the football world pricked up its ears the next morning when the papers carried in them an account of a 14-0 score in favor of the Mississippi boys.

The following week Louisiana College came over to engage the Choctaws. These boys, though plucky and full of fight, were completely dumbfounded by the offense of the Clinton boys, being sent home with the small end of a 68-0 score.

On October 14, at Jackson, we met our time-honored rival, A. and M. This game was one of the fiercest battles ever seen in the capital city. During the first half, Captain Hale, ably assisted by his teammates, succeeded in piling up 13 points against the Aggies. In the second half, however, the farmer boys came back strong and plunged through our line for a couple of touchdowns, kicking both goals, which netted them 14 points. The loss of this game eliminated us from the race for state championship.

Provine Field was the scene of our next encounter, when the Union University bunch from Jackson, Tenn., came down for a try at the Indian eleven. Although full of pep and fight, the university boys were unable to withstand the attacks of Goat Hale & Co., and went down by a score of 35-0.

The following week Coach Robinson took the tribe and journeyed to Birmingham, where we took Birmingham-Southern on for a tilt. In a game played in the pouring rain the Panthers succumbed to the blows of the Choctaws, going down to the tune of a 27-6 score. In this game Goat Hale's performances earned for him recognition as All-American material by a prominent sport writer.

The climax of the season was reached the next week, when, at Vicksburg, the team met the boys from Ole Miss. In a well-played game the Mississippi College boys completely outclassed the university boys and handed them the little end of a 26-7 score.

Millsaps came next in line for a drubbing. In the three quarters that they played the scrubs piled up 28 points against the Majors. In the remaining quarter the varsity dittoed the work of the scrubs, making a total score of 56-0 in favor of the Baptists.

On a sandy field, which put the fleet Choctaws to a disadvantage, the Gators of the University of Florida managed to hold the Indians to a 7-7 tie, after having been outplayed by the Clinton boys during most of the game.

The Turkey Day affair was played in Mobile with Spring Hill College. The blot of last season's defeat was completely wiped out by a score of 28-7. The Spring Hillians were completely baffled by the swift, elusive backs of the Indian eleven.

On December 3, in a post-season affair, the Baylor Bears managed, during a blizzard, to hand the Choctaws a walloping. The score was 26-0.

Throughout the season Hale was easily the outstanding performer of the team, yet by no means was the team a one-man affair. Goat's work justly entitled him to a place on the mythical All-Southern eleven, which he easily secured.

With the season finished, the question uppermost in the mind of every loyal supporter of the Gold and Blue is: What are the prospects for next year? Of the nineteen men who received letters only five graduated, two linemen and three backfield men. Thirty scrubs learned the rudiments of football this past season. With the new material that we are sure to receive, Mississippi College should turn out a football team next year equally as good as the one of 1921.

Football

EDWIN HALE, Captain, Half

The editor feels keenly his inability to pen in such limited space a review of Goat's wonderful football career. Sport editors throughout the South have used columns in telling of the gridiron feats of this star. Suffice it to say that this past season Goat has been one of the most wonderful performers in Dixie, and it is with sorrow that we see M. C. lose her most popular exponent of football, as well as her first All-Southern player. From Tulane to Baylor, Goat never wavered in his fight, showing throughout the season a spirit that put new determination into the team. Although a marked man in every game, he was never out. He was a terror to his opponents, while for his team he was one of the best grid generals in the South. He is universally liked by the students.

T. L. EVERETT, Captain-elect, Guard

Salty played excellent ball from the Alpha to the Omega of the season. One of the sport writers who saw him play said that he was the equal of five men in a line. This is no exaggeration, for he is one of the best linemen who performed on the Dixie gridirons this year, being mentioned for a berth on the All-Southern eleven. He enjoys playing against a man who is much larger than he is, and has yet to find one that he cannot handle. He captains the team next year, and we are expecting him to land an All-Southern berth before the season is over.

R. A. WHITE, Half

Although White sustained an injured shoulder in the first game of the season, he came back in the latter part in grand style, baffling his opponents by his swift, elusive offense, and putting up a first-class defense. He is one of the swiftest men of the team, which, together with his ability to tackle, makes him a very valuable man. With a season's experience he should be one of the stars on the Dixie gridirons next year.

W. G. STUART, Tackle-End

For three years Spigoot has taken care of one of the tackle positions in grand style, and it is with regret that we see him lay aside his togs. He is fast, aggressive, and can quickly analyze a play and smear it up in the opponents' backfield. He was used at end for a few games, acquitting himself as usual with honor. He is a good tackler, and glories in smashing interference. Few if any gains were made over him this season.

Football

R. C. WINDSOR, End

Roy is one of those men who is good anywhere he is placed. His pep, fight and grit have made him one of the best ends to be found anywhere. He goes down under punts, receives forward passes, and tackles like an old-timer. When he was in the game everyone knew that his part of the job was being well taken care of.

R. L. LAMBRIGHT, Quarter

Robert comes to us from Louisiana, where he has an enviable record in football. To say that he has lived up to his record would be putting it lightly. He is an exceptionally good passer, while his punting goes far above the average. He is fast, and when carrying the ball renders a good account of himself. With three years of football before him, he should become a wonder in commanding a team on the gridiron.

J. W. DICKINS, Center

Dick has the determination and the fight that make him a valuable man in any position. He was shifted to center this season and soon became one of the bulwarks of the line. A true passer, a good tackler and a quick thinker, he soon won the confidence of the team, for he could be relied upon to cover his share of the ground and throw his opponents for a loss. We are glad that he returns next year.

JOE KEITH, Fullback

Joe was a star in class football last year. To say that he was equally a star on the varsity this year would be no exaggeration. He has all of the qualifications of a really great fullback, being a sure ground-gainer on offense and a demon on defense. He smashes the best interference and never fails to get his man. He will be back with us next year, and with his past record we are expecting him to be a stellar performer again next season.

Football

ROY SHEFFIELD, Center

Sheffield came in late, but very soon showed stuff that caused Coach Robinson to see in him good football material. Although a first-year man, he takes football seriously and, with experience, will make one of the best pivot men in the country. His passing is true. He always opens a hole when the play is called over him, while on defense he is everywhere, smashing interference, tackling, or doing anything else that comes his way. He will be a wonder next year.

W. C. TYLER, Half

Luke played quarter for two years, but this year Coach shifted him to half. As everyone expected, he played equally as well there as at quarter. He is not a flashy player, but a consistent ground-gainer and a marvel on defense. Interference is his specialty, while at tackling he is a wonder. He probably has the fine points of the game better than any man who went on the field this season. We lose him through graduation.

J. F. BAILEY, End

Wop takes care of the left terminal in great style. He is a fast, aggressive end, and gets down under punts like an old-timer. He delights in smashing interference, while at tackling he is a marvel. He has plenty of fight and pep, and is always cool and level-headed in a game. He puts all that he has into every minute of play. We are expecting Wop to perform some really great feats on the gridiron next year.

CECIL JOHNSTON, Quarter-Manager

It is generally conceded that Cecil is the pluckiest little fellow who ever applied for a position on the varsity squad. For two years he starred on the scrubs, and finally in his senior year gained a much-coveted "M." He is one of the surest tacklers on the team, rarely if ever missing his man, while as a field general his work is highly commendable.

Football

J. F. STUART, Tackle

Aunt came back this year with the determination to play ball as he had never played before, and as a result has made one of the best tackles that M. C. has had for years. With his weight and superhuman strength, he tears his way through the opposing line and smears the play in the backfield. He is fast, aggressive, and a good tackler, which makes him a very valuable man.

J. H. FORTENBERRY, Guard

J. Herbert, or Rance, as he is better known, wound up his second year of football in great style. He is always on the spot with plenty of pep and fight, and can be relied upon to open a hole in the line when called on. On interference he works like a veteran, while on defense he is one of the best men in the line. His specialty is breaking into the backfield and smearing up the plays.

H. F. AUSTIN, End

Although a first year man, Austin takes the game like a veteran. Never excited and always playing at his best, he has made one of the best first-year ends that M. C. has ever had. He is quickly down under a punt, receives forward passes with ease, and tackles like a regular. He plays the game for pure love of the sport, and with three years to play should make one of the best ends in the South.

NEWT HAMILTON, Quarter

Newt is a product of Clinton, having played several years on the Clinton High football team. He entered M. C. this fall and at once laid claim to a position on the varsity. He, in spite of his 130 pounds, has made a first-class quarterback. He is cool and self-possessed in a game, and is always able to find the opponents' weak spots. On defence he is a good tackler.

Football

D. L. Simmons, End

Simmons is another product of the class games of last year. Taking the game seriously and putting every ounce of his strength into the play, he has made one of the best ends to be found anywhere. He is fast, aggressive and always cool-headed even in the thickest of the fight. Tackling is his specialty, though he is equally efficient in his other endeavors.

Cy Parks, Half

Cy came out of the class games last year with a position on the All-Class team and a determination to win a place on the varsity this year. He has developed into one of the fastest and most elusive halves that M. C. has. He has weight, grit, fight and determination—a combination which should make him one of the best halves in the country next year.

W. C. Hudson, Tackle

Pinch played a good brand of football throughout the season. He takes care of the tackle position in grand style, always opening a hole when the play is called over him, while on defense he is a demon, breaking through the opponents' line and throwing the opposing backs for severe losses. He has plenty of fight, which, together with his rough method of handling his man, makes him a terror to his opponents.

EDWARDS
DICKENS

When Coach Robinson's tribe sent S. M. A. and Millsaps home with the small end of the score in two games with the former and three with the latter, everyone began to realize that Mississippi College had a first-class baseball team.

The following week when Atlanta came over for a little work-out they found that it was no easy task to hand Joe Edwards and his tribe the small end of a score, but that they would have to watch every move in order to leave the campus undefeated. After one of the most hotly contested battles seen throughout the season, the game was called at the end of the tenth inning with the score two to two. Throughout the entire game the professionals fanned the air in desperate attempt to connect with one of Joe Edwards' slants. Thirteen of the Atlantans were whiffed by this giant southpaw and sent back to their seats. Goat Hale starred when he stepped to the plate and connected solidly with one of Mr. Brewer's offerings, slapping it over the fence for a counter. Pittman, who was on base, came in, which gave us two scores. This game convinced the most skeptical that Mississippi College had a baseball team as good as any in the country.

When A. & M. came down for their share they were given the little end of a five to one score two days in succession, Joe Edwards and Watt Clark being the mound performers. This veteran, as well as our left-handed Freshman, was too much for the farmer boys. Two other games were played at A. & M., the Indians losing one by a close score of six to five. In the other game the Choctaws administered a threshing to the farmers to the tune of a six to one score.

When the team went to L. S. U. they went into a slump, dropping a couple of games. In the following games of the series, however, the Choctaws took revenge on the Louisiana boys, for in three straight games the Tigers failed to score, while the Choctaws mounted up respectable tallies. In the last games Edwards and Clarke showed superb form and completely baffled the Tiger batsmen.

We lost the State Championship when the team met the boys from Ole Miss for a series. Going into a slump and making a number of errors, they allowed the university boys to sack a couple of games in a three-game series.

COOPER PARKS LEE GULLEY

Ball Season of 1921

This lost the championship for the Choctaws, but a comparison of the records of the two teams gives the Choctaw team a decided rating over the boys from Oxford, in games played and lost, as well as in comparative scores. A. & M. tied the university in a series; we won three out of four games with the farmers; L. S. U. took a series from the university; we tied the Louisianians. In games played and won in the state the Choctaws finished with a percentage of .692, while Ole Miss had only a percentage of .666.

A glance at the score book reveals some interesting data concerning our team. We find that Thomas Gulley, who played center field, led the team in batting with a percentage of .430, while Goat Hale came in for second with a percentage of .297. Parks led the team in scoring, having to his credit twenty-seven trips across the home plate. He drew fifteen walks from the pitchers whom he faced, and has the distinction of being the only man who played all of every game.

The Choctaws crossed the plate 149 times, compared with 92 tallies made by their opponents.

Joe Edwards, our star mound performer, was captain of the tribe this year, and his work was exceptionally well done. For captain of the 1922 team Pretty Boy Cooper was unanimously chosen. Cooper has played stellar ball at the initial sack for two years, and we feel sure that with his abilities as a leader he will make us a first-class captain.

BENSON PRINTING CO.
NASHVILLE, TENN.

¶ More than ninety universities, colleges and schools of the South favored us with their Annual printing contracts for the year 1922.

¶ This phenomenal record is the natural result of the high quality of workmanship displayed in all our publications, coupled with the very complete service rendered the Staff.

¶ From the beginning to the end we are your counselor and adviser in the financing, collecting, and editing of your book.

¶ Surely if "Experience is the best teacher," as an old maxim says, then our service must be supreme. Decide right now to know more about our work and service. Simply write for our proposition.
